Description

In 2023 RHITES launched the Map of State Laws Impacting Telehealth for Medication Abortion Care (TMAB) which details the up-to-date availability of TMAB provision for all states and territories and lays out key policy barriers to equitable care that particularly impact BIPOC populations living below relying on Medicaid. The map lifts abortion provision broadly, telehealth provision, implicit and explicit bans, and states with protections for abortion services. We are expanding the map to include Medicaid and private insurance coverage for telehealth for medication abortion. We need support conducting research and creating a chart including citations and analysis on the state-by-state availability of Medicaid & private insurance coverage and limitations for telehealth services and abortion. We are the only sexual health, rights, and justice organization exploring this issue.
