Description

Florida Justice Institute seeks co-counsel in an impending suit against the FL Department of Corrections.

Dade Corrections Institution is a FL Dept of Corrections carceral facility located in Homestead, FL. It houses the elderly and the infirmed. Florida does not have universal air conditioning in their carceral facilities, despite the overwhelming heat. The State contracted with KPMG to produce an economic study on the cost of adding universal AC to DCI. Despite the study's findings and FJI's contact, the State refuses to address this matter.

FJI would like to pursue a class action suit. The complaint is already drafted. As well as the requisite motions and declarations.

They would like to file in October but can be flexible.
