

Representing and Accommodating People with Disabilities

< LFAA RESOURCES < THE EXCHANGES

The Exchange

05 May 2024

Barry C. Taylor provides an overview of interacting and communicating with people with physical and mental disabilities. This training will provide an overview of proper etiquette and language, ethical considerations, as well as information about specific ADA issues.

LFAA is not a law firm and does not provide legal services or referrals. The contents of this resource do not constitute legal advice and the user of this resource agrees that no attorney-client relationship is being formed between the user and any person or entity, including LFAA and the lawyers or law firms that drafted the resource. LFAA makes no representation regarding the accuracy of any information included in this resource.

Attachments

Interacting with People with Disabilities

LFAA is not a law firm and does not provide legal services or referrals to individuals, legal services organizations or public interest agencies. If you believe you need a lawyer, please contact your local bar association or go to www.lawhelp.org.

